Why should I buy an Avalanche box plow?

Box plows (Containment plows) are many times more productive than ordinary angling snowplows. Because of their “boxed” or “C” shape, box plows can contain 300-500% more snow before it starts to spill out the sides. This greatly reduces the need to clean up any ridges left behind. A box plow also offers you the ability to pile snow. You can move more snow in less time. This translates into cost savings, higher profit margins, and you’re able to provide better service to your customers.
